Why AE?

I'm trying something outside of IT, and i dont have enough skills in graphic design. So, I think AE could be a good solution since it's similar to PM.

The true meaning of AE

After 3 months as an AE, I realized it's more than I expected. Being an AE at Baroka, we must be creative, detail and have strong communication skills. But most importantly, it's about keeping the team running smoothly.

What I got?

At Baroka, I've learned a lot like creative thinking, time management, decision making, teamwork, and most importantly, solidarity.

What's next?

Back to IT with a focus on web development and data engineering.

Thank you
for the laughs and lessons
